Rival Capitalists Aug 09 2020 Nowhere can the cataclysmic reversals in international competitiveness since the Second World War be traced more clearly than in the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, and Japan. Surveying the development of the steel, automobile, and semiconductor industries in each of these countries, Jeffrey A. Hart illuminates the role of national policy in a changing world. Hart describes the global structure of production and consumption in the five major capitalist countries and offers a rich comparative history of their industrial policymaking. He concludes that variations in statesocietal arrangements—and the impact these differences have on the creation and diffusion of new technologies—provide the best explanation for divergences in international competitiveness. In Japan, state and business are allied, but labor is marginalized, whereas in Germany, labor and business are allied, and the state is decentralized. Yet both countries have become increasingly competitive because they have developed institutional mechanisms for technology diffusion. France's state-led system, in contrast, is linked with only moderate competitiveness. The decline of competitiveness in the United States and Britain, Hart concludes, may be attributed to state-societal arrangements that have allowed one actor-labor in Britain, business in the United States to dominate policymaking. Rival Capitalists will be an invaluable source for policymakers and business analysts as well as scholars and students of political economy, international relations, industrial organization, industrial sociology, and comparative politics.

Nissan / Datsun It Is a Matter of Pride May 30 2022 The book has the author's professional views of the development of the worldwide automotive industries and their current emphasis on self and driverless cars and trucks. He has written about the 17 years' experience working for little known Nissan Motors USA that imported Datsun cars and trucks. He helped to develop a strong Datsun dealer network that during his tenure outsold all other imports in the Western United States. He shared his stories while he was one of the few dedicated pioneering employees in the West who helped initiate policies and procedures that eventually led to the success of Nissan that we know of today.

Driving from Japan Aug 28 2019 This study chronicles the success of the Japanese car in America. Starting with Japan's first gasoline-powered car, the Takuri, it examines early Japanese inventors and automotive conditions in Japan; the arrival of Japanese cars in California in the late 1950s; consumer and media reactions to Japanese manufacturers; what obstacles they faced; initial sales; and how the cars gained popularity through shrewd marketing. Toyota, Honda, Datsun (Nissan), Mazda, Subaru, Isuzu, and Mitsubishi are profiled individually from their origins through the present. An examination follows of the forced cooperation between American and Japanese manufacturers, the present state of the industry in America, and the possible future of this union, most importantly in the race for a more environmentally-sound vehicle.

Datsun/Nissan 280ZX and 300ZX Mar 28 2022 A complementary volume to Datsun Z, also by Brian Long, this text tells the 20-year story of Datsun's/Nissan's sporting grand tourers, starting with the 280ZX of 1978 and then on through two generations of 300ZX, until the model was discontinued outside of Japan in 1998.

Nissan 300ZX and 350Z Oct 23 2021 The Datsun 240Z was a landmark in automotive history--some say the Japanese E-type Jaguar--and by the time the first generation of Z--cars came to an end in 1978, everyone around the world knew the name Datsun and that the company was serious about sports cars.

The Datsun Roadster Car Jul 28 2019 The Datsun Roadster was a lightweight automobile produced by Nissan in the 1930s. The series was a predecessor to the Fairlady sports cars, and was an example of the earliest passenger cars produced in Japan. We added some more road tests - many from foreign magazines - some more brochures, three 1960's vintage Datsun Service Bulletins, and a 20-page color spread from the from October 2007 "Z File - Fairlady and Fairlady Z History". We got permission to publish these pages courtesy of our "roadster friend in Japan" and D.R.F.C. member, Takeshi Izuka. Takeshi, by the way, is the proud owner of an "imported" LHD 1969 2000 that he has maintained in showroom condition.

Z Feb 24 2022 Some 35 years ago Datsun (now Nissan) introduced the 1970 Datsun 240Z sports car, emphatically disproving the perception that Japanese automakers could only produce economy cars. Designed specifically to appeal to the American market, the Z car has enjoyed long-term popularity with its sporty styling and impressive performance. Z car fans are loyal and numerous. Over 1.4 million Z cars have been sold worldwide, including 1 million-plus in the U.S. The five generations of Z cars include the latest version, the 350Z introduced in 2003, which has refueled interest in Z cars. This book will thoroughly cover the history of this breakthrough Japanese sports car, and will include official Datsun/Nissan photography and memorabilia such as advertising and international marketing materials.

Japanese Investment and British Trade Unionism Apr 04 2020 This book revisits the long contested negotiation between the Thatcher administration and Nissan for the latter's first green-field plant in Europe. From the very beginning, the plant took Britain's EC/EU membership and tariff-free access to the single market as a token. A considerable amount of aid including component supplies was provided to attract Japanese investment and to prevent its transfer to the continent. The successful launch of Sunderland highlighted improved Anglo-Japanese relations and put an end to the Japan-EC/EU trade conflict. But the price was paid by Nissan's slump and fall, and by trade unions in both countries failing to keep counterchecks on management. Brexit and the fall of Carlos Ghosn were a double blow to Anglo-Japanese relations which are in a state of drift and need redefinition.
