That God May Be All in All Apr 13 2021 Christology and Pneumatology have long been major preoccupations for theologians, and rightly so, but the work of God the Father has been surprisingly neglected. Through a biblical and exegetical study of the Father's person and work (Paterology), this book argues that, among the persons of the Trinity, the Father is the initiator of all divine activity. Furthermore, it is in the context of a loving eternal relationship with the Son and Spirit that the Father has planned and purposed all things, creating through the Son and by the Spirit, promising and accomplishing redemption through the sending of the Son and the Spirit, and perfecting salvation by bringing about a new heavens and new earth through his Son and Spirit. The only proper response is a Trinitarian-shaped life of worship that worships our Triune God.

1916 and All That Nov 01 2022 An irreverent, vibrant, satirical, and largely untrue history of Ireland. "Irish history started when people arrived on the island. At least, that is when history really got going. Before that things were rather quiet . . ." So begins C.M. Boylan's wonderfully irreverent take on the history of Ireland. It will take readers from the 'Age of the Third Best Metal' through the struggles of Wolfe Tone (Ireland's best-named revolutionary) right through the Celtic Tiger years, when there was pancetta and rubies for all. And then on to the present day, when there are fewer rubies. Along the way, this history is not afraid to ask the hard questions, such as: Why were walls so important for the Normans? Can you describe and explain Limerick? Is your mother enjoying the Boom this weather? This book is a journey in itself, taking its lucky readers through the long and winding valley of history, and into the bright ocean of the future, right up to the point where the history ends.

And All That Stalking May 03 2020 When a woman is found murdered in her North Beach apartment, San Francisco PI Casey McKie takes on the case as a favor to her friend Dee Jefferson. The singer and club owner wants Casey to prove the man accused of the crime, jazz drummer Greg Sanderson, is innocent.Casey discovers the crime scene is free of forensic evidence. She figures it's the work of an experienced killer, and more murders with the same MO prove her hunch correct.Since all the victims were young jazz singers, Casey concludes the killer is someone from the jazz community. Is it Tony, the womanizing owner of a club where they all sang? Or songwriter Bernie Silvers, who pestered them to perform his tunes? Or is it actually Greg, who has a history of violence? Or someone unsuspected?After a string of dead ends, Casey is forced to use a singer as bait to catch the killer.“The pace is crisp, the dialogue snappy and apposite, and the comments on jazz, the music and the people, are insightful...Merrill writes with flair and imagination and this book will appeal to both lovers of crime fiction and jazz fans." - Bruce Crowther, Jazz Journal International"Imagine a setting as syncopated as San Francisco; and the lingo of hard-nosed local gendarmes. Mix both in the unpredictable environment of jazz, and you have an irresistible recipe for another exhilarating page-turner from Joan Merrill and her alter ego, Detective Casey McKie." - Harvey Siders, JazzTimes

Wat een man is Aug 18 2021 Negen mannen. Allen in een verschillende levensfase, allen weg van huis, en allen proberen ze – in de buitenwijken van Praag, naast een Belgische snelweg, in een goedkoop Cypriotisch hotel – te begrijpen wat het betekent om te leven, in het hier en nu. Szalay trekt een lijn van de lente van de jeugd tot de winter van de oude dag, en brengt in Wat een man is deze verschillende levens samen om mannen te laten zien zoals ze zijn: lachwekkend en niet in staat zich goed uit te drukken, shockerend en verachtelijk, levenslustig, meelijwekkend, hilarisch en vol oprecht verlangen. Terwijl de jaren deze mannen achtervolgen, wordt de inzet verbijsterend hoog in dit doordringende portret van eenentwintigste-eeuwse mannelijkheid.

And All the Saints Oct 20 2021 A “compelling” novel based on the life of Irish American gangster Owen Madden, from a New York Times–bestselling author (Booklist). Winner of the American Book Award for Fiction His life of crime began at the age of ten, after he crossed the Atlantic with his family and landed in America. Starting as the leader of the most violent Irish street gang in Hell’s Kitchen, the young immigrant rose to prominence as the leading brewer and bootlegger in Prohibition-era New York. In due course, he also became Mae West’s lover; the founder and proprietor of the Cotton Club; the owner of five heavyweight champions; the man who gave his childhood friend George Raft his big break in Hollywood; and more. This vivid historical novel, written in the form of a fictionalized memoir, uses Madden’s voice to trace his life from his boyhood in England to his early twentieth-century heyday and beyond. “A bright romp, with enough period detail and dialogue to fill ten Cagney films.” —Kirkus Reviews “Reminiscent of Roddy Doyle's novel A Star Called Henry.” —Booklist

“A tale that feels remarkably authentic.” —Hartford Courant

Harry Coverdale's Courtship. and All That Came of It Sep 30 2022 Harry Coverdale's Courtship from 1855 is one of the most famous works by Frank Smedley, an English novelist. This story is piquant and full of vigor, although its author couldn't live a life of adventures. He was born with deformed feet, which impaired his mobility. Yet, such a lifestyle empowered him to develop bright imagination that helped construct impressive storylines and put his characters into fascinating settings and adventures.

De hemelse jager Jul 17 2021 Over de fundamenten van de beschaving en de noodzaak van mythes Ooit was de mens een weerloos dier, opgejaagd door andere dieren. Tot hij andere dieren na ging doen en zich wapende met vuistbijlen en pijlen: hij werd jager en begon zichzelf te zien als mens. Het was de eerste stap op weg naar de macht. In de meest uiteenlopende culturen, in tijd en ruimte ver van elkaar verwijderd, herkende de mens in de sterren, die hij elke nacht aan de hemel zag, zijn eigen verhalen, zijn angsten en zijn dromen, in de vorm van goden, demonen, monsters. In die verhalen speelt heel vaak de jager een hoofdrol, aan de hemel verbeeld door Orion, de hemelse jager, en zijn hond Sirius. Die mythen zijn nog steeds verweven met ons dagelijks leven. Calasso neemt ons mee van de Steentijd via Egypte, het oude Griekenland en de Turingmachine naar de kunstmatige intelligentie van onze tijd. Zo maakte hij verbanden zichtbaar die onze kijk op onze eigen tijd verhelderen.
